

The Hugo Award for Best Novel

Presented since 1955, the Hugo Awards, named after sci-fi magazine Amazing Stories founder Hugo Gernsback, represent the best in science fiction or fantasy work from the past year. Unlike some other awards that are decided by a judging panel, this award is run by and voted by members of Worldcon (The World Science Fiction Convention). This list contains Hugo Award for Best Novel winners that are held by the Charles P. Puksta Library at River Valley Community College. Please report any errors to library staff.
